SPECIAL EDITION

It's been a while since we shared with our readers some of the letters and newspaper/periodical clippings received by the ministry. Because of our small staff and our goal to be effective stewards of your kind support, it's just impossible to respond personally to all of the mail we receive. Our focus is the production of Zola Levitt Presents and distribution of Zola's teaching materials. And Zola, due to his current health problems, is just unable to respond to individual inquiries as frequently as he would like. We tried to collect a representative sampling of mail we have received recently.

The following is excerpted from a recent issue of The New York Times. This article entitled, "Syria, Drugs and the U.S.," was written by A. M. Rosenthal, a columnist we've quoted in the past.

The Bekaa Valley was once Lebanon's breadbasket — rich with wheat, fruit, vineyards. Since Syria took military control of the country, 90 percent of the valley has been given over to drug cultivation — particularly opium for heroin.

Syrian military units border cannabis and opium fields and laboratories for making the heroin. Individual Syrian officers make as much as $30,000 a year for the trade. Higher officers, including President Assad's brother and the Minister of Defense, make vastly more. All told, the Syrian military gets a subsidy of $300 million to $1 billion from the heroin trade, much of its product destined for the United States. Terrorist groups headquartered in Syria also draw funds from drug cultivation in the valley...

The information above comes from a report ordered and made public by the chairman of the House Subcommittee on Crime and Criminal Justice... It urged that the U.S. set a deadline for Syria to end its drug activities and that the Justice Department prosecute Syrian generals who conspire to put drugs on streets. The report was drawn up in the summer and fall of 1992. It denounced the Bush Administration's failure to take action and warned that the Syrian drug trade could turn into another Iraqgate...but [the report was] not made public until after Election Day in November.

LETTERS...

Since then, the production of opium for heroin in the Bekaa Valley has moved — upward...

It is one more example of the tendency of American governments to appease or mollify dictatorships...It's been entirely clear for years that only Presidential leadership can give thrust to the war against drugs. If American police and anti-drug agents can risk their lives fighting growers, dealers and pushers, it is not asking too much of the President to state publicly that the Government of Syria is all three.

From Letters to the Editor
Seattle Post-Intelligencer

The bombing at New York City's World Trade Center proves once again how vulnerable we are to the act of terrorism. As long as we keep meddling into the affairs of the Middle East, we can count on repeat performances, perhaps with even more devastating results.

The potential for blackmail here is a real possibility. Why wait for that to happen?

I submit that we do the following now: Reduce our dependence on oil as a source of energy and insist that Israel return the occupied territories to the Palestinians or lose our loan guarantees.

Relations between the United States and Israel have never been too cordial. Why we continue support Israel to the tune of $3 billion each year is beyond me. Personally, I would like to see us sever our relations with Israel altogether.

If that sounds too drastic, then let me raise the following questions: Are we going to break off relations now, while we still have that choice, or are we going to wait until we are blackmailed into it? Remember, peace in the Middle East can never be attained as long as Israel does not come to terms with the Arabs. I do not foresee that ever happening.

C. E. Johannes, Renton, WA

Dear Readers:

The editor did not respond to the preceding letter, but we have an answer... Rewarding terrorists is the best way to encourage more terrorism. Turning our backs on our friends to please our enemies makes no sense, either in wordly or spiritual terms. - Zola

THE REST OF THE STORY....

The Jerusalem Post covered Holocaust survivor Cecilia Rexin's story because of her unusual situation; she is a Gentile Christian, not a Jew. She didn't have to go to the camps but she was caught helping Jewish children. In addition to her memories that we covered in the April 1993 Levitt Letter, the writer, Jacob Dallal of the Post, reported the following.

In January 1945, as the Germans were becoming increasingly desperate, Rexin was transferred to work in a munitions factory outside the Buchenwald concentration camp, making bullets for the German army. She said she developed typhus and double pneumonia and, after a few months, weighed about 36 kg [79 lbs.]. With the Allied soldiers' approach imminent, the Germans abandoned the factory, leaving behind poisoned food for the famished workers.

"It was only because I was so ill that I did not eat," Rexin said. "Had I eaten, I would have been dead."

Cecilia continues to lecture in schools in Indiana on her experiences in the concentration camp because, "I want the younger generation to know what happened before those of us who were there are no more."

But, the Post covered only part of her story. We could only wish they had added the fact that American Christians made the trip possible with their love gifts. Travel Experience International set out to take Cecilia and her daughter Nancy to Israel. We made a single appeal to our viewers for funds, indicating that contributions would be welcome. Enough money to cover all their expenses was given by our wonderful supporters who love the Jewish people and honor Israel. The Lord's calculations were characteristic of his usual precision! We received an amount sufficient to cover the price of the two tours and the sizeable phone bill that Nancy incurred in making long-distance calls to Germany and various U.S. agencies to secure a passport for Cecilia.

A SWEET MEMORY

Have you ever seen a dear little old lady who appeared to personify peace in the Lord? For about ten years, Libby Robinson has quietly visited our ministry's office to assist with assembling teaching materials, watering our plants and doing whatever she could to be a part of the Lord's work. Last month Libby went to be with her savior and left us in prayerful gratitude. We'll see you in the Kingdom, Libby!

FALL FESTIVAL TOUR

Zola will explain the Passover as we take the Lord's Supper together at the Garden Tomb. Will this be the highlight of your pilgrimage? Most memorable might be your baptism in the Jordan River. Whether you prefer our deluxe $2,799 ten-day Basic Holy Land tour (Sept. 21 - Oct. 1) or our $3,999 Grand Tour with a visit to Dachau Concentration Camp and a 4-day Mediterranean cruise (Sept. 20 - Oct. 5), please call or write to Karen for your brochure (214) 690-1876.

FRENCH ATTORNEY

If you know of an attorney in France or at least an attorney who speaks French, we may need his assistance in resolving a problem concerning an anti-Semitic security guard at the Paris airport. Interestingly, Zola was named for the great French author, Emile Zola, who defended against a case of anti-Semitism in a French court a century ago, in his book J'Accuse.

DEPORTED FROM ISRAEL?

We recently told you about the Beresfords who were to be deported for their faith in Christ. While Israel's government tolerates many religions, they say that a Jew professing faith in Jesus is not really a Jew. Consequently, Believers who indicated they were Jewish when immigrating to Israel have been targeted for deportation for being untruthful. We will let you know as soon as we get an update.

LETTERS...

Dear Zola:

Like yourself, the Lord has placed a burden on my soul for Israel and the Jewish people, wherever they may be, in general. Unlike you, I'm not Jewish by birth. As the Religion Editor of the Times Herald, Orlean, NY, I have the freedom to do commentaries like the one following.

"Christianity's Roots Sprout From Judaism"

Where are the Christians? Where were the people who claim that their Messiah (who just happens to be Jewish) is so wonderful, so powerful, so loving?

If you're a Jew and your people have suffered through multiple persecutions, it's a fair question to wonder where the followers of Jesus were when you were being slaughtered in different "cleansing" attempts throughout the ages.

With the recent opening of the Holocaust museum in Washington, D.C., Christians are vividly reminded that the lineage of Jesus Christ is pure Jewish. He wasn't Norwegian; he wasn't Eastern European; he wasn't born in Maine.

Simplest put, to be both pro-Christian and anti-Jewish just doesn't fly!

When I see stories about a rise in anti-Semitism, I wonder who these anti-Semites are. Would we dare think some are practicing Christians?...

Religious history shows us that the Christianity we know and practice today had its roots in Judaism; in fact, the church (Protestant, Roman Catholic, etc.) was not started by a pope, evangelical minister or synod figure — the whole ball of wax was initiated by a group of Galilean Jews who sought to take the message of Jesus and run with it as far as they could.

It always amazes me that these men, frequently frail of character, but steeped in Judaism were picked by Jesus to be his early disciples; Peter, who denied Jesus; Paul, persecutor of early Christians and James, slow to respond to the bounce of the gentile message, were the early-on prime time marathoners.

When someone asks me where my roots are, my answer is Israel. For anyone who is a practitioner of Christianity (of Jesus), is there really any other answer?

LETTERS...

Dear Pat of Zola's Staff,

Thank you for your letter and forgive my asking such stupid questions. I was so desperate to get a response from you, I got carried away... You're correct in reprimanding me for my unimportant questions. The name of the game is "Follow God," not "Trivial Pursuit."

Very few people have ever taken the time to tell me what's important and what isn't.

Your Brother in Christ,

K.C.
Mabton, WA

Dear K.C.,

Thank you for understanding. Your humility greatly honors our Lord. "Blessed are the meek..." — Zola

Dear Zola or Zorba or whatever,

How ignorant can you get? You have so-called Christian scholars on your program, and you use their Bible as a reference repeatedly when you do not believe in their religion or their Bible. You do not even follow Jewish law. You just care about one thing, and that is the State of Israel. You are a Zionist plant to brainwash these simpleton Americans... How can you use Jesus' Bible as a reference when you Jews called Him names and ridiculed His mother? Answer that, Zorba.

Oh, by the way, I am a Semite just like you. So there goes your anti-Semitic bull.

ALLAH AKBAR!

S.D., A Muslim in California

Dear Zola,

Yours is a good show: very instructive and challenging, and you are a true teacher and a creative musician. Unlike so many of the typical, artless performances we get from churches and TV/radio ministries, your music is always captivating...

God promised to one day gather His people from among the nations and bring them home to the promised land, Israel. Now, is there any significance to the fact that the American Jews don't go home, and what do you think would it take to make them fulfill this prophecy? Would Israel ever be prepared to accommodate several million more people within its present borders?

So what if the Rapture would occur this fall? Do you think the American Jews would then go home in one wild exodus? ... Will they deal with the world of Antichrist? Or will they be pressed by anti-Semitism, persecution or holocaust? If America is destroyed, would the Jews go under with the rest of the American people? Is it necessary for the American Jews to go home in order to fulfill prophecy? Zola, I would very much like to hear your thoughts on this topic, for I cannot think of another evangelist in America more qualified to speak about this than you.

H.B.
Milwaukee, WI

Dear H.B.,

American Jews will return at the time of the Tribulation because of anti-Semitism: "Ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake" (Matt. 24:9). So far as all your other questions go, the American Jew, like other Americans, are part of God's plan; those saved will be in heaven; those left will deal with the society of the Antichrist as best they can. — Zola

Dear Zola,

I saw your interview with Dr. Michael Brown on his book, Our Hands Are Stained With Blood. I was pleasantly surprised. I'm black and if I didn't know it was two Jewish men talking about anti-Semitism, I would have thought it was two black men talking about racism in America.

I know it gets you angry to see so-called Christians being anti-Semitic and removing Jesus from His Jewish heritage by twisting the Bible into what they believe in — a belief in hypocrisy!

I'm equally angry knowing that the Bible is rich with people of color, like my heritage, yet some make Jesus with blonde hair and blue eyes.

I'm surprised and happy to know that you know how Black people feel when confronted with racism.

The Jewish heritage needs to be mandatory teaching to every Christian.

Also, the ethnic richness that the Blacks contributed to the Bible must be taught, too.

Keep up the good work, Zola.

Dear Zola & Company,

Your monthly newsletters are always a blessing to me and boost to my faith, and your April 1993 Levitt Letter was certainly no exception. Thank you so much for sharing with us the story of Cecilia Rexin and giving us the opportunity of helping to send her to Israel. You are loved and appreciated more than you could ever know.

I would also like to convey a special "thank you" to Jim and Beth S. of Houston, whose letter appeared in the same edition, for expressing so beautifully how God has blessed us "with a heart for His people."

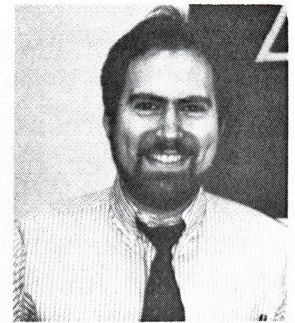

Your friend always,

A Look at the Book

By Steve Ger

We have reached the conclusion of our series on the minor prophets this month. It has been my hope throughout this series that through our lessons this group of books will become less intimidating and more accessible. As we have seen, the minor prophets contain some of the richest revelations of the Lord to be found in the Bible. Yet, sadly, Amos, Micah, Zephaniah and our other friends too often remain unread. If this series of articles motivates you to open your Bible to the book of Hosea or Joel, I will consider them to have succeeded in my purpose. In our final lesson we will focus on the subject of worship. This is an intense arena for the prophetic message as it deals not only with the false worship of idolatry but also the deficient worship of mere ritual.

Prosperity can never be used as evidence of one's virtue or God's blessing.

It was all too true for the Israelites that judgment needed to be endured. The blatant disobedience committed by the Jewish people in both the Northern kingdom of Israel and the Southern kingdom of Judah had to be harshly condemned. Hosea was specifically vocal concerning the people's idolatry, which was deemed "prostitution" by the Almighty (1:2; 2:2-7; 4:1-10,15; 5:4-7; 6:7,10; 7:13-14; 8:1-14; 9:1). The sin of idolatry had been the downfall of the Jewish people throughout the Old Testament record. From the moment when the newly freed nation turned to the golden calf immediately prior to Moses giving the Law at Mt. Sinai, to the time when the judges ruled, through King Solomon's tolerance of foreign gods, down to the time of the prophets, the Jewish people had invariably chosen to worship other gods.

The true God could never accept this from His chosen people. The transgression of the Law, the rejection of the Covenant and all sins resulting from that terrific disobedience led to severe judgment. For the ancient nations of Israel and Judah, there was to be no right relationship with God aside from the keeping of the Covenant (Zeph. 1:4-13; 3:1-7; Micah 1:5; 6:13; Amos 2:4). God alone was to be worshipped.

Idolatry would eventually lead to the destruction of both nations and the captivity of the Jewish people in Babylon. However, following their exile, history demonstrates that the Jewish people would never again repeat their failure. Through divine discipline, idolatry was purged from the nation.

The requirement of righteousness was no less to be implemented in the Israelite's worship of the true God. The formalism and elaborate presentation of the people's worship is resoundingly rejected by Micah, Amos and Hosea. All too often the Jewish nation's religion was divorced from the essential ethical implications of the Law. To the Lord and his prophets, that was no religion at all. The culture at large was engaged in gross corruption and immorality. The government, the merchant classes and the priesthood were degenerate in the eyes of God because they were taking advantage of the common people. Their religion was distorted; the lavish ceremonies and sacrifices were all too often offered at the expense of the poor. The elaborateness of their worship concealed a hollow sham. The prophets expose this hypocritical subterfuge and reveal what it is in the sight of God.

---

Internal motivation is always more important to God than external demonstration.

The most sacrosanct ceremony or ritual was considered an abomination by God if there were no underlying intentions of morality or justice. God takes no pleasure in the mere solemnity of assemblies, sacrifices or festivals. In fact, Amos insists that God despises religious activity that is devoid of justice and righteousness (5:21-23). The prophet took Israel's spiritual temperature and declared that the nation was running a perilously high fever.

Because of the numerous festivals, offerings, tithes and pilgrimages the Jewish people were participating in, they falsely assumed they were fulfilling their worship requirements. They didn't realize that no amount of religious activity could exempt them from the Covenantal criteria. Indeed, they considered their wealth and security to be evidence of God's acceptance and blessing. However, then and now, prosperity can never be used as evidence of one's virtue or God's blessing. Israel substituted the pursuit of prosperity for the righteousness and justice that God requires.

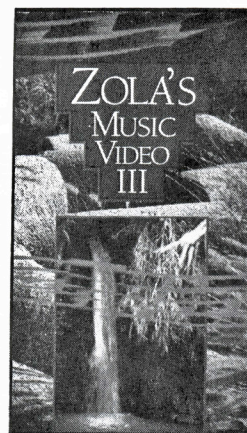

In regard to worship, God delights in loving faithfulness rather than sacrifice or ritual. Mere outward acknowledgement can never substitute for inward obedience. This is not a prophetic condemnation of all ritual.

Ritual worship in the Temple was a necessary element of the Covenant between God and the Jewish people. However, worship must be in spirit and truth; it must never descend into empty formalism. Internal motivation is always more important to God than external demonstration. Indeed, worship involves a transformation of both behavior and attitudes.

Yet, God was not demanding a superhuman effort from his people. He was not laying a burden on them that they were incapable of bearing. The content of God's requirements are not complex but they are profound. Micah's question to the Israelites is still penetrating after 2,700 years, "and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God?" (6:8).

Hebrew Lesson

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ
יְהוָה אֶחָד:

*“Sh'ma' Yis-ra-el' A-do-nai' E-lo-hay'-nu
A-do-nai' e-chad'.”*

*Hear O Israel! The Lord our God is one!
(Deut. 6:4)*

Half-Shekel Key Chains

Each of these tear-drop key chains contains an authentic half-shekel coin from Israel and cites the very important verses, Exodus 30:13-16 and Ephesians 2:8-9. They are reminiscent of the days when each child of Israel, rich or poor, gave a half-shekel coin to make an atonement for his soul. Put your half-shekel in your pocket — salvation is now free! Please order from page 11.
